

Dear Committee Members,

I am writing to express my interest in joining the committee for IATEFL-Hungary. My name is Kata Molnár, and while some of you may already know me, I would like to share a bit more about myself for those who may not be familiar.

I am currently a teacher trainee at Pannon University, where I have been studying for the past four and a half years. Teaching has been a passion of mine since childhood, and that passion still drives me today. I consider myself a creative, open-minded, kind, and ambitious individual who finds it easy to connect with others. Outside of academics, I enjoy cooking and designing.

I first learned about IATEFL about 2 years ago and decided to volunteer at the following conference in Siófok. The experience not only introduced me to the community but also motivated me in my studies and future plans. As a result, I became a member of IATEFL-Hungary and have attended three conferences and a summer course.

I genuinely believe that IATEFL provides hope and purpose for educators today. I am looking forward to being part of the team and helping with its goals. I believe my personality and my love for people and teaching aligns well with the values of this community.

I am hopeful for the opportunity to join the next IATEFL-Hungary conference as a committee member and contribute to the continued growth of this amazing community.

Sincerely,

Kata Molnár
